Form 990, Part III, Line 4b, Program Service Accomplishments:

During these discussions, we walked through how a consumer accesses and interacts with DeFi front-ends and protocols, using these presentations to demonstrate how regulations could apply to DeFi as well as showcase how certain proposed regulatory frameworks could inhibit DeFi from functioning as it was envisioned.

In 2022, we were able to continue to make aware to policymakers that DeFi functions in fundamentally different ways than its centralized counterparts and therefore, why it needs a tailored regulatory regime.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4c, Program Service Accomplishments:

In 2022, we were able to further relationships with, and contribute to articles in high-profile publications such as The Wall Street Journal, The New York Times, POLITICO, Fortune, Reuters, TIME and Business Insider.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4d, Other Program Services:

Policy Research: In 2021, we embarked on a project to analyze the Policy objectives of existing financial regulatory regimes in order to 1) understand the objectives of existing rules and regulations and 2) Determine the extent to which those objectives are inherently vindicated by the functionality of decentralized finance protocols. Separately, we also helped coordinate a group of DeFi users and enthusiasts to draft "principles" for developers and users of DeFi

The Organization's Directors and Officers ("interested persons") must comply with the DeFi Education Fund's conflict of interest policy as delineated in the DeFi Education Fund's bylaws.

Duty to disclose. In connection with any actual or possible conflict of interest, an interested person must disclose the existence and nature of their interest and may be given, in the discretion of the board of Directors, the opportunity to disclose all material facts to the Board of Directors or the appropriate committee to which the Board of Directors has delegated the power to consider whether a conflict of interest exists.

Determining whether a conflict of interest exists. After disclosure of the interest and all material facts by the interested person, and after any discussion with the interested person, the interested person will leave the Board of Directors or committee meeting while the determination of a conflict of interest is discussed and voted upon. The remaining disinterested directors or committee members will decide if an actual conflict of interest exists and determine whether the transaction or arrangement is approved.

Procedures for addressing the conflict of interest. After exercising due diligence, the Board of Directors or committee will determine whether the fund can obtain a more advantageous transaction or arrangement with reasonable efforts from a person or entity that would not give rise to a conflict of interest. If a more advantageous transaction or arrangement is not reasonably attainable under circumstances that would not give rise to a conflict of interest, the Board of Directors or committee will determine by a majority vote of the disinterested directors or committee members whether the transaction or arrangement is in the fund's best interest and for the fund's own benefit and whether the transaction is fair and reasonable to the fund. The Board of Directors or the committee will be required to make its decision as to whether to enter into the transaction or arrangement in conformity with such determination. The chairperson of the Board of Directors or the Chairperson of the committee may, if appropriate, appoint a disinterested person or committee to investigate alternatives to the proposed transaction or arrangement. The Secretary will make a part of the meeting minutes of the Board of Directors or the committee the Board of Director's consideration of any conflict of interest.

Failure to disclose. If the Board of Directors or committee has reasonable cause to believe that an officer or director has failed to disclose an actual or possible financial interest, the Board of Directors will inform that individual of the basis for such belief and afford that individual an opportunity to explain the alleged failure to disclose. If, after hearing the response and making such further investigation as may be warranted under the circumstances, the Board of Directors or committee determines that the individual has failed to disclose an actual or possible financial interest, the Board of Directors will take appropriate disciplinary and corrective action.

Use of independent persons. In the event that fund is unable to constitute a quorum of independent directors to consider an interest, the Board of Directors should constitute a committee of independent persons to advise on the contemplated transaction.

Loans to directors and officers prohibited. No loans may be made by the fund to its directors or officers. Any directors voting for or assenting to the making of any loan to a director or officer, which is prohibited by applicable law, and any director or officer participating in the making thereof, will be jointly and severally liable to the fund for the amount of such loan until repayment thereof.
